ITEM, Whereas by the noble King RICHARD late King of England, after the Conqueſt the Second, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the Morrow after All-Souls, the Fifteenth Year of his Reign, amongſt other Things, it was ordained and eſtabliſhed, That the Statutes and Ordinances made, and not repealed, of them that make Entries with ſtrong Hand into Lands or Tenements, or other Poſſeſſions whatſoever, and them hold with Force, and of them that make Inſurrections, Riots, Routs, Ridings, and Aſſemblies, in Diſturbance of the Peace, or of the Common Law, or in Affray of the People, ſhould be holden and fully executed. (2) And moreover it is ordained by the ſame Statute, That at all Times that ſuch forcible Entries be made, and Complaint thereof come to the Juſtices of Peace, or any of them, that the ſame Juſtices or Juſtice ſhall take the Power of the County, and ſhall go, or one of them ſhall go, to the Place where ſuch Force is made; (3) and if they find, or he findeth, any holding ſuch Place forcibly, after ſuch Entry made, they ſhould be taken and put in the next Gaol, there to remain convict by the Record of the ſame Juſtices or Juſtice, until they have made Fine and Ranſom to the King; (4) and that all the People of the County, as well Sheriffs as other, ſhall be attending to the ſaid Juſtices, and to aſſiſt them to arreſt ſuch Malefactors, upon Pain of Impriſonment, and to make Fine and Ranſom to the King. ITEM, Whereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the Twenty eighth Year of King EDWARD the Third, amongſt other Things in Favour and Liberty of the Merchants Strangers repairing into the Realm of England, it was ordained, That if a Plea or Debate be moved before the Mayor of the Staple amongſt the Merchants or Miniſters of the ſame, and for to try the Truth thereof an Inqueſt or Proof is to be taken, if the one Party and the other be ſtrange, it ſhould be tried by Strangers; (2) and if the one Party and the other be Denizens, it ſhould be tried by Denizens; (3) and if the one Party be Denizen, and the other an Alien, the one half ſhould be of Denizens, and the other half Aliens; (4) and moreover, that in all Inqueſts and Proofs which ſhall be taken and made betwixt Aliens and Denizens, be they Merchants or other, as well before the Mayor of the Staple, as before any other Judges or Miniſters, although our Lord the King be Party, the one half of the Inqueſt or Proof ſhould be of Denizens, and the other half of Aliens, if there be ſo many Aliens in the Town or Place where ſuch Inqueſt or Proof is to be taken, that be not Parties, nor with the Parties in Contracts, Pleas, or other Quarrels, whereof ſuch Inqueſts or Proofs ought to be taken; (5) and if there be not ſo many Aliens, then ſo many Aliens ſhall be put in ſuch Inqueſts or Proof as ſhall be found in the ſame Places or Towns which be not Parties thereunto, nor with the Parties as before is ſaid, and the Remnant of Denizens which be good Men, and not ſuſpect of the one Party nor of the other. (6) Sithence which Ordinance the ſaid Merchants Aliens have been always demeaned and ruled, as well in the Staples, as in other of the King's Courts, after the Form of the ſaid Ordinance, until now of late they have been thereof reſtrained and impeached by Colour of another Statute made in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the Second Year of King HENRY, Father to our Lord the King that now is; (7) by which Statute, for the great Miſchiefs, Damages, and Diſheriſons, which daily do happen through the Realm, as well in caſe of the Death of a Man, as in caſe of Freehold and other Caſes, by them that paſs in Inqueſts in the ſaid Caſe, which were common Jurors, and other which had but little or nothing to live upon but by ſuch Inqueſts, and which had nothing to loſe becauſe of their falſe Oaths, whereby they do the more lightly offend their Conſciences; (8) and for Amendment and Correction thereof to be had, it was ordained and ſtabliſhed, That no Perſon be admitted to paſs in any Inqueſt upon Trial of the Death of a Man, nor in any Inqueſt between Party and Party in Plea Real or Perſonal, whereof the Debt and the Damages declared do amount to Forty Marks, except the ſame Perſon have Lands or Tenements to the yearly Value of Forty Shillings above all Charges; (9) becauſe of which Reſtraint and Impeachment ſo made to divers Merchants Aliens, many of the ſame Merchants Aliens have withdrawn, and daily do withdraw them, and eſchew to come and be converſant on this Side the Sea, and likely it is, that all the ſame Merchants Aliens will depart out of the ſame

The ſeveral Pleas and Delays that were in Attaint at the Common Law.

ITEM our Lord the King, by the grievous Complaint of his Commons, conſidering the Miſchiefs had within the Realm, and yet not remedied, and alſo the great Damage and Diſheriſon that cometh by the uſual Perjury of Jurors impanelled upon Inqueſts, as well in the Courts of our Lord the King, as of other, the which Perjury doth abound and increaſe daily more than it was wont, for the great Gifts that ſuch Jurors take of the Parties in Pleas ſued in the ſaid Courts; (2) wherefore the greater Part of People that have to ſue in the ſaid Courts, leave their Suits for the Miſchiefs aforeſaid, and namely in reſpect of the Delays that be in the Writs of Attaints; for that in Times paſt in Writs of Attaints, when the Grand Jury had appeared in Court, and were ready to paſs, one of the Tenants or Defendants, or of the petty Jurors named in ſuch Writs, ſometime have pleaded falſe and faint Pleas, which were not triable by the Grand Jury of the Attaint, and by that Means delayed the taking of ſuch Grand Juries until ſuch Pleas were tried. And after ſuch Pleas tried and found for the Plaintiffs, another of the Jurors, Tenants, or Defendants, might plead another ſuch falſe and faint Plea after the laſt Continuance in the ſame Attaints, and ſo every of the Defendants, Jurors, or Tenants, after other, might plead ſuch falſe and faint Plea, and delay the Grand Jury when it was ready to paſs; (3) and though that all ſuch falſe and faint Pleas were found againſt them which pleaded, no Pain was given them by the Common Law, (4) in regard of which Delays, the Grand Juries in Attaints have been often grievouſly vexed and travelled, and the Plaintiffs in ſuch Attaints put to ſo great Coſts, and thereby impoveriſhed, that they could not proſecute their ſaid Suits, wherefore the Jurors be the more encouraged to be perjured, and to make their falſe Oaths in ſuch Caſes: (5) Our ſaid Lord the King, willing thereof to provide Remedy, at the Requeſt of the ſaid Commons, and by the Aſſent of the Lords aboveſaid, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That the Parties Plaintiffs in all ſuch Attaints ſhall recover their Damages and Coſts againſt all ſuch Tenants, Jurors, and Defendants, which they have ſuſtained in that Behalf; and that this Statute extend as well to Writs of Attaints now hanging, as to Writs of Attaints to be purchaſed hereafter.

ITEM, For that the King is and hath been well certified of many great Deceits and Falſities, which have been done to him and to his Realm by ſome of the Captains which have before this Time indented with the King to ſerve him in the Feat of War, ſome beyond the Sea and in divers Parts, as they be appointed and bound by their Indentures, and ſome in his Marches on this Side the Sea, and their Wages have been truly paid and contented by the King, according to their Indentures, for them and for all their Retinue, according to their Degrees, which Wages many of the ſaid Captains have abuſed, and taken upon them to deduce from their Soldiers, of ſome more, and ſome leſs; ſo that ſuch, from whom they have abated, have not been able to continue their Service, nor perform the ſame as of Right and Reaſon they ought to have done, and peradventure were willing to have done, if they had been fully paid; which hath cauſed them to fall to Robbery and Pillage, as well on this Side the Sea before their going, as beyond the Sea, when they came thither, amongſt other Things it hath been a great Cauſe of long Continuance of the War, and great Damage and Loſs which hath fallen to the Seigniories and Countries of the King in his Obeiſance beyond the Sea, and not only that, but Loſs alſo of great Treaſure which hath been granted to the King, and paid in the Form aforeſaid for the Defence of his Land.
